MEMORANDUM OF INVESTIGATIONSTATUS:PENDING

SUBJECT: COOKS, Carlos A., Pvt., ASN 32886414,
Med Det, Section 1, Station Complement,
Camp Davis, North Carolina.

CONCLUSION:

As a civilian, Subject was an active race agitator in New York from 1934 to 1943. In 1942 and 1943, his speeches were seditious in nature and were directed to Negro audiences in a tone favorable to the enemies of the United States.

Subject is definitely disaffected and disloyal. While he has committed no subversive acts since his induction into the Army in September, 1943, his contacts and interests have been kept active with persons and organizations whose motives and activities are questionable from a loyalty viewpoint.

DISPOSITION:

In view of the foregoing, Subject is deemed by this Headquarters to be dangerously disaffected and sufficiently dangerous to warrant transfer to a War Department Special Organization. However, due to Subject's race, there is no special organization to which he may be transferred and appropriate action is being suggested to retain Subject at a station where there is a minimum of colored soldiers and which is in a more-or-less remote locality to restrict Subject to non-sensitive duties, and to prevent Subject from going overseas.

Investigation requested by SID, Hq 4th SVC, Atlanta, Ga.
Office of origin SID, Hq 4th SVC, Atlanta, Ga.
Report made at Camp Davis, North Carolina.
Report made by Earl J. Beatt - Intelligence Office
Period covered 29 December 1943 to 14 March 1944
Character of investigation Disaffection
Status of Case PENDING

REASON FOR INVESTIGATION:

Investigation of Subject by PIO, Camp Gordon, Georgia, was requested by Director, MID, Hq Fourth Service Command, by 5th indorsement, MIS letter, Washington, D. C., dated 25 August 1943, regarding Subject; a CI-R1 was submitted 26 October 1943. Subject has been reported as having been a speaker prior to his induction into the Army, and to have made speeches, possibly of a seditious nature in the Harlem district of New York City. These speeches, directed to negro audiences, are said to have been anti-white race; to have been of a tone unfavorable to the United Nations, and favorable to the Japanese and Axis countries. This information is contained in S/I dated 24 September 1943, from Hq Fourth Service Command, Atlanta, Georgia.

This supplementary CI-R1 is submitted in accordance with ASF letter, SID, Hq Fourth Service Command, Dated 14 January 1944, re COOKS.

On 8 March 1944, this Agent interviewed the above listed acquaintances of Subject in the orderly room of the Medical Detachment, Station Campement, Camp Davis, North Carolina, regarding [redacted]. Acquaintances are in Subject's detachment and have known [redacted] since his arrival from Camp Gordon in late December. Subject was reported as having been a strict soldier prior to his induction into the Army and made speeches possibly of a seditious nature, in the Harlem District of New York City.

None of the above acquaintances knew of any adverse information and no pertinent verified information was obtained as defined in par 2 and 3, War Department letter, subject "Investigative Principles and Methods", dated 24 January 1944. However, all of the above named acquaintances described [redacted] as disrespectful toward his non-commissioned and commissioned officers; his work has been unsatisfactory; a very poor disposition toward soldiering; a definite anti-racism toward members of his own race.

All above acquaintances appeared to have known Subject well and this Agent considers them reliable informants.

Re: Review of Surveillance.

On 9 March 1944, this Agent interviewed Lt. Charles M. Loyd, Subject's Detachment Commander, regarding surveillance placed on Subject. COOKE was reported as having been a street speaker prior to his induction into the Army and made speeches possibly of a seditious nature, in the Harlem district of New York City.

Lt. Loyd has kept Subject under close observation since 29 December 1943, when COOKE was transferred to the Medical Detachment, Station Complement. All reports were negative.

This Agent also examined the files of the Post Intelligence Office, this station, for any adverse information on Subject. No adverse information resulting from surveillance was found.

6 January 1944

REPORTING FOR THE OFFICER IN CHARGE:

Subject: COOKS, Carlos A., Pvt.
ASN 32866114
Station Complement,
Camp Davis, North Carolina

Re : Surveillance.

Pursuant to Paragraph 44, Special Orders 269, Headquarters, Camp Gordon, Georgia, dated 19 November 1943, Carlos A. Cooks, Private, 32866114, was transferred from 532nd Quartermaster Battalion to Headquarters Detachment, Section #2, AML Sub-Section, Camp Gordon, Georgia.

Cooks is a subject of a disaffection investigation. Following the transfer of Subject to Headquarters Detachment, Section #2, this Officer assigned individuals within the unit to place Subject under observation. This surveillance was maintained until the transfer of Subject to Camp Davis, North Carolina on 24 December 1943. Following is a summary of the information reported to this officer by operatives who had Cooks under surveillance:

T/Sgt. Willie R. James, Acting First Sergeant, Headquarters Detachment, Section #2, stated that Subject was an extremely quiet individual and never gave any trouble of any sort. Subject was assigned duties as fireman at Service Club No. 2, Camp Gordon, Georgia, and had quarters at the Service Club No. 2. His hours of duty were on duty twenty-four hours and off duty twenty-four hours and during his off time he frequently came to the Company area and spent a good deal of time in the day room and neighboring post exchange. Subject was not known to drink at all. He kept to himself, had no intimates and rarely ever had anything to say. Sgt. James believes that he succeeded in gaining Subject's confidence and on several occasions had conversations with him. However, Subject had very little to say and did not discuss his pre-Army experience. Sgt. James knows of no reason to suspect that Subject might be disloyal.

S/Cgt. Edward H. Kyr, Supply Sergeant, Headquarters Detachment, Section No. 2, Camp Gordon, Georgia, observed Subject during off-duty hours when

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

Subject would come to the Company area. Sgt. Kyer states Subject was quiet, well behaved, had little to say and kept strictly to himself. Sgt. Kyer knows of no reason to suspect that Subject might be disloyal.

Cpl. Luster (J) Blaford, Headquarters Detachment, Section #2, Camp Gordon, Georgia, is in charge of the detail from Headquarters Detachment, Section #2, which works at Service Club No. 2, Camp Gordon, Georgia. In addition, Cpl. Blaford roomed with the Subject at Service Club No. 2 and probably knew Subject better than any other individual at Camp Gordon. Cpl. Blaford states that Subject was very quiet and never had much to say. Subject was on duty twenty-four hours and would then be off duty for twenty-four hours. Subject did his work well and caused no trouble. Subject never talked about his past experiences. During off-duty hours, Subject occasionally would go to the Company area or would, once in a while, go to the library, which is located in Service Club No. 2, reading. Cpl. Blaford does not know the nature of the reading Subject did. Subject received very little mail and wrote very few letters. Cpl. Blaford knows of no reason to doubt Subject's loyalty to his country.

In addition to the surveillance as reported above, the following personnel at the Service Club No. 2 were interviewed:

Mrs. Mabel Hill, Cafeteria Hostess, Service Club No. 2, Camp Gordon, Georgia, was interviewed by this officer at Service Club No. 2 on 5 January 1944. Hill stated that she had frequently contacted Subject during the period from about 11 November 1943 to 24 December 1943. Subject never had much to say and always did his work well. Hill recalls one occasion when Subject was off duty when he was very nearly involved in a fight with another soldier whose name she does not know. Hill saw Subject and other soldier and it was apparent that Subject was about to strike the other soldier. She does not know what precipitated the disagreement. She immediately took Subject by the arm and lead him away and succeeded in preventing any fight. At that time Subject told her that he had to fight when it appeared to him he was being abused. He further stated that he had been transferred to Camp Gordon because he had not a Captain. The only other occasion when Subject said anything to Hill that did not pertain strictly to his duties was at the time of his transfer to Camp Davis, North Carolina, on 24 December 1943. Hill does not recall just what Subject said at this time but she does remember that the tone of his remarks indicated that he was very resentful because of his frequent transfers, regarding that he had been transferred several times since coming to Camp Gordon and saying that he wished the Army would make up its mind where they wanted him to stay. Hill knows of no reason to suspect that Subject is not loyal but remarks that Subject has a peculiar personality and is not well adjusted to Army life.

Mrs. J. T. Griffin, Librarian, Service Club No. 2, Camp Gordon, Georgia, was interviewed by this Officer on 5 January 1944. Griffin stated that she had known and observed Subject during the time he worked at Service Club No. 2, since he came in practically every day to read. He did his reading in the library and did not take books out. She had very few conversations with him and these were all about books, and while she does not recall what books Subject read, she does remember that Subject's reading was largely serious. Subject appeared to have an above the average education. Subject never discussed his past life or educational background with Griffin but she had the definite impression that he was self educated. She says that Subject was quite well behaved at all times and she knows of no reason to suspect Subject of disloyalty.

All witnesses listed above are believed to be reliable.

Re: Review of Mail.

On 9 March 1944, this Agent reviewed the mail cover placed on Subject and observed the following:

Mail interception was placed on Subject 29 December 1943 and continued until the receipt of War Department letter, dated 24 January 1944, Subject, "Investigative Principles and Methods", and 1st indorsement, A.F. letter, Adjutant General's Office, HQ 4th Service Command, dated 29 January 1944, requesting immediate discontinuance of mail interception.

During this period of time it was noted that Subject corresponded freely with many women, the matter contained in the letters was personal. It was also determined that "Miss" Sundee Butler, Apt. 2017, 333 So. Blvd., Bronx 64, N. Y., is COOKS' wife by a recent marriage. They have attempted to keep the marriage a secret.

Subject also wrote a letter to "Captain" Thomas Parks, 9 West 128th St., New York City, N. Y., alleged to be the treasurer for the African Nationalistic Pioneering Movement, formerly the Advanced Division of the Universal Negro Improvement Association. An extract of the letter is as follows:

Hello Old Warrior:

Just a few words to let you know that I am thinking about you. I got back here 8 hours late, and was given 3 days extra duty. It's all over now. Sundee told me that she was trying to contact you but couldn't. I am counting on you to carry on should anything happen to me. You've got the strength of character plus the ability to lead. And I am quite sure you know the course, and methods. Keep in touch with Sundee and also keep your hands on the pulse of the A. P. S. I will if I get out of this Army try to get control of the African Pioneering Syndicate, plus revive the "Street Speaker". However I am damn certain one of us will survive, and whichever one it is, then let that one carry on even as "Larous" would. I remain, Yours for African's Redemption.

Re : Mail Intercept.

Carlos A. Cooks, Private, 32886414, was assigned to Headquarters Detachment, Section #2, Camp Gordon, Georgia, from 10 November 1943 until 24 December 1943. He is the subject of a disaffection investigation.

Effort was made to comply with mail intercept on Subject but the only letters examined were as follows:

Letter dated 4 December 1943 signed "Sundee"; return address 333 South Boulevard, Bronx, New York; gossip.

Letter dated 4 December 1943 signed "Ester"; return address Miss Ester Rolle, Box 864, Pompano, Florida.

Due to the fact that mail orderlies at Headquarters Detachment, Section #2, Camp Gordon, Georgia, had to be changed four times during the period, mail intercept is by no means complete. However, investigation in the unit revealed that Subject received very little mail.

Carlos Cooks, a forceful youth haranguing a large crowd, shouted in the half light of a street corner lamp:

'Jews are all Communist, and Communism wants to exploit the Negro just like the white man. I wouldn't lift my finger to save a Jew.....We came here against our will. They brought us here as slaves and they've treated us as slaves. We owe nothing to America. America owes everything to us. This isn't my culture. Cooks isn't my name. This isn't my home. My home and my culture and my name are in Africa. I'm a foreigner here.

'I'm a persecuted man here. I'm hated here. But I tell you what I am right now—I am a black nationalist; and I want the colored people to live like colored people. I want colored people to have their own civilization, their own government, their own cities, and their own officials. I want the black man to go back to Africa, and I'll back up anybody that says 'Africa for the Africans.'

Cooks operated the African Pioneering Syndicate, Inc. Its purpose was to initiate commercial relations with Africa and devote the proceeds to the welfare of the black man and the resettlement of the Negro. One of the more intelligent fascist leaders in Harlem, he published "The Street Speaker"—violently fascist, anti-British, anti-white. Cooks also maintained a Department for Racial Enlightenment, with headquarters in a large basement hall on St. Nicholas Avenue. He made no secret of his Axis leanings:

'I reject completely the theory that the Negro must give unquestioning obedience to the State and its leaders. We feel no enmity with people of the totalitarian powers, especially Japan. The Japanese have never lynched or exploited the Negro.....Between Nazism and Democracy, the two evils, I would choose Nazism, for the Blacks can sink no lower than they have today in America.'

(Extracted from Roi Ottley's "New World A-Coming"; page 128-129)

Negroes have never been associated with any overt forms of anti-Semitism, such as the 'Buy from Christians' movement, though attempts have been made to enlist their support, even to plastering stickers and posters on the buildings and subway stations in Negro neighborhoods. Actually, a good deal of the anti-Jewish feeling is stimulated by unscrupulous negroes, and Axis agents -- both white and Negro -- who seek to exploit the Negro community's legitimate grievances. For example, a street meeting is held ostensibly as a 'rent protest', presumably sponsored by reasonable people, but somehow the affair quickly turns into an anti-Semitic demonstration, with certain speakers vilifying the 'Jewish landlords' and indeed lauding Hitler. 'Captain' Carlos Cooks, a Harlem race missionary picked up by the F.B.I. in 1942 while addressing such a gathering, was heard to say in referring to Hitler that "what he's trying to do, we're trying to do!"

* * * * *

(Extracted from "New World A-Coming"; page 334)

Police stenographers, assigned to report the speeches of Harlem street-corner orators, recorded the utterances of 'Captain' Carlos Cooks, a noisy anti-Semite. He was charged with having said: 'Hitler is a good white man. Personally, I admire any white man who can organize white people to kill each other. The white race should produce more Hitlers. If there were more Hitlers we (Negroes) wouldn't have a damn thing to worry about!' He was the 'administrator' of the African Nationalist Pioneering Movement, a pro-Axis organization. Actually, he was without any visible following and merely harangued idlers along Lenox Avenue. He was convicted and sent to jail.
